PACIFIC
BUSINESS COLLEGE,
MECHANIC'S INSTITUTE,
POST STREET, Between Montgomery & Kerney
SAN FRANCISCO,

The importance of a thorough and practical business training for those who contemplate entering the mercantile profession, is too well known to require much comment. Without such knowledge, the young merchant will become involved in many embarrassments which might otherwise be avoided. The youthful aspirant will find himself surrounded by inextricable difficulties, both in seeking a situation, and in the discharge of its duties after employment is obtained. To have received instruction at a mercantile college, endorsed by the leading merchants of the city, is more effective in winning the favor and confidence of business firm, than all the letters of introduction which friends can give. The maintains a reputation for thoroughness and systematic training, far surpassing that of any other similar institution on the Pacific coast. Most of the leading merchants of this city have employed graduates from this College, and bear testimony to the practical efficiency of the course here prescribed. The system of actual practice embraces all the varied operations of real business. A Ladies' Department has lately been added to this popular institute. This spirit of enterprise cannot fail to draw forth the well-wishes of the public.

Pacific Business College

Address for all information,

THE WEIGHT OF A TEAR.

A pair of scales before him,
A rich man sat and weighed
A piece of gold—a widow's all—
And unto her he said:

"Your coin is not the proper weight,
So take it back again,
Or sell it me for half its worth—
It lacks a single grain,"

With tearful eyes the widow said:
"Oh! weigh it, sir, once more;
I pray you be not so exact,
Nor drive me from your door."

"Why, see yourself! it's under weight;
Your tears are no avail;"
The second time he tries it,
It just bears down the scale.

But little guessed that rich old man,
Who held his gold so dear,
The extra weight that bore it down
Had been the widow's tear.

DUEL BETWEEN CLAY AND RANDOLPH.

Mr. Clay was Secretary of State at the time Mr. Randolph was a Senator from Virginia. John Quincy Adams was President of the United States. John Randolph, too prone to believe evil of all men, and especially of his political opponents, was persuaded that Henry Clay had gained the office he then held by a corrupt bargain with the President. He firmly believed that Mr. Adams had said to Mr. Clay in 1825, when the election of a President devolved upon the House of Representatives:

"Make me President, and I will appoint you Secretary of State, and adopt you as my successor."

Thus believing, it was hard for a man of Mr, Randolph's unscrupulous fluency to avoid betraying his belief. Accordingly, in April, 1826, in the course of his wandering, sarcastical harangues, after insinuating that Mr. Clay had forged a public document, Randolph concluded with the following words, in reference to a recent vote:

"After twenty-six hours' exertion, it was time to give in. I was defeated, horse, foot and dragoons—cut up and clean broke down by the coalition of Blifil and Black George—by the combination, unheard of till then, of the Puritan with the blackleg."

Blifil and Black George are two characters in Fielding's celebrated novel of Tom Jones; Blifil being a sniveling hypocrite, and Black George an audacious robber. Every one who heard Mr. Randolph use the these words understood Blifil to be the Yankee President, John Quincy Adams; who, however, was no Puritan but a Unitarian, like his father before him. Black George could be no other than Mr. Clay, who early in life was known to have been a gambler, as most gentlemen of the time were. The passage of Mr. Randolph's speech relating to the alleged forgery was as follows:

"A letter from the Mexican Minister at Washington submitted by the Executive to the Senate, bore the ear-marks of having been manufactured by the Secretary of State."

On reading the report of this most insulting and most unjustifiable speech, Mr. Clay wrote a challenge and sent it by his friend, General Jesup. General Jesup called upon Randolph, informed him that he was the bearer of a message from Mr. Clay, in consequence of an attack recently made upon him jn the Senate, both as a private and a public man."

"I am aware," said General Jesup, "that no one has the right to question you out of the Senate for any thing said in debate, unless you choose voluntarily to waive your privilege as a member of that body."

Mr. Randolph replied that he would never shield himself under the protection of the Constitution, and held himself accountable to Mr. Clay.

"I am ready to respond to Mr. Clay," said he, "and will be obliged to you if you will bear my note in reply, and in the course of the day I will look out for a friend."

General Jesup declined bearing the note, saying that he thought Mr. Randolph owed it to himself to consult his friends before taking so important a step. Mr. Randolph seized Geneeal Jesup's hand, and said:

"You are right, sir. I thank you for the suggestion, but as you do not take my note you must not be inpatient if you do not hear from me to-day. I think of only two friends, and there are circumstances connected with one of them which may deprive me of his services, and the other is in bad health. He was sick yesterday, and may not be out to day."

General Jesup requsted him to take his own time, and bade him good morning. This was Saturday, April 1, 1826. Mr. Randolph immediately went to the lodgings of Colone. Benton, of Missouri, and upon finding him, asked him bluntly, without giving any reason for the question:

"Are you a blood relation of Mrs. Clay?"

"I am," said Colonel Benton.

"That," rejoined Randolph, "puts an end to a request which I had wished to make of you."

He then related to Colonel Benton the particulars of the interview with General Jesup, and as he was taking his leave he told Colonel Benton that he would make his bosom the sole depository of an important secret. He said that he did not intend to fire at Mr. Clay, but meant to keep this intention a secret, and enjoined secrecy upon Colonel Benton until after the duel. In the course of the day Colonel Tatnall, of Georgia, conveyed Mr. Randolph's acceptance of the challenge, which was couched in the following terms:

"Mr. Randolph accepts the challenge of Mr. Clay. At the same time he protests against the right of any minister of the Executive Government of the United States to hold him responsible for words spoken in debate as a Senator from Virginia, in crimination of such minister, or the administration under which he shall take office. Colonel Tatnall, of Georgia, the bearer of this letter, is authorized to arrange with General Jesup (the bearer of Clay's challenge), the terms of the meeting to which Mr. Randolph is invited by that note."

Some further correspondence took place between the parties, relative to the correctness of the report upon which Mr. Clay's action was founded. Mr. Randolph admitted its substantial correctness. He also knowledged that he did apply to the administration the epithet puritanic—diplomatic—blacklegged administration; but he peremptorily declined to give any explanation whatever as to the meaning or application of those words. Owing to several c auses the duel did not occur until exactly one week after the sending of the challenge, during which the friends of the parties did all that was possible to promote a reconciliation, but in vain.

Colonel Benton had been for some time estranged from Mr. Clay, owing to political differences, but on the Friday evening, the night before the duel, he called upon his old friend and political chief, to show him, as he says, that there was nothing personal in his opposition. The secret had been well kept, and no one in the house knew of the impending event.

"The family were in the parlor," Colonel Benton relates, "company present, and some of it stayed late. The youngest child, I believe James, went to sleep on the sofa. Mrs. Clay was, as always since the death of her daughter, the picture of desolation, but calm, conversable, and without the slightest apparent consciousness or the impending event:

When, at length, the family and the company had all retired, Colonel Benton approached Mr. Clay, and assured him that his personal feelings toward him remained the same as formerly, that in whatever concerned his life or honor, Mr. Clay had his best wishes. The Secretary of State responded cordially, and at midnight they parted. The next morning Colonel Benton called upon Randolph, chiefly anxious to learn whether he still retained his intention not to fire. He told him of his visit to Mr. Clay the night before—of the late sitting—the child asleep—the unconscious tranquility of Mrs. Clay.

"I could not help thinking," added Colonel Benton, "how different all that might be the next night."

Mr. Randolph quietly replied, as he looked up from writing in his will:

"I shall do nothing to disturn the sleep of the child or the repose of the mother."

A few minutes after he sent his man-servant to the United States Branch Bank to get nine pieces of gold—a scarce commodity at that day, as at present. The man soon returned, saying that the bank had no gold. Instantly, the master's shrill voice was heard, exclaiming:

"Their name is Legion! and they are liars from the beginning! Johnny, bring me my horse."

A few minutes after he was at the bank-counter, asking the state of his account. Four thousand dollars was the amount of money which he had in the bank, and he asked for it. The teller took up some packages of bank notes, and politely asked him in what sized notes he would have it.

"I want MONEY!" roared Mr. Randolph.

The teller, a little puzzled, said, "You want silver?"

"I want my money," replied the irratable Senator.

The teller then, lifting some boxes to the counter asked him, in his politest tone:

"Have you a cart, Mr. Randolph, to put it in?"

"That is my business, sir," said the Virginian.

At this moment the cashier came forward, ascertained what Mr. Randolph wanted, and gave him the nine pieces of gold, which he condescended to take, and returned with them to his lodgings. There he gave Colenel Benton a note, requesting him, if he was killed, to feel in his left breeches pocket, and take out this gold.—Three of the pieces were for Colonel Benton himself, for a seal, and the other six were to be divided among two other friends, for the same purpose.

It was about sunset, in a thick forest, on the Virginia shore of the Potomac, that the antagonists met to decide their difference by exchanging shots. A pistol was handed to Mr. Randolph, loaded and set with a hair trigger, and it was accidentally discharged, while the muzzle was pointed to the ground. Randolph was exceedingly mortified at the accident.

"I protested against that hair trigger," said he.

"Mr. Clay instantly remarked: "It was clearly an accident," and every one on the ground confirmed the assertion.

Mr. Randolph, it seems, had changed his mind and was now determined to direct his pistol so as, if possible, to disable his antagonist without doing him any serious injury. He came to this determination after hearing that Mr. Clay objected to the shortness of time allowed by the seconds for firing, saying that he did not think he could discharge his pistol in the time specified. Randolph misunderstood the remark, and considered it indicative of a determination on the part of Mr. Clay to inflict a fatal wound.

"He has determined," he wrote in a pencilled note to Benton, "to get time to kill me.—May I not then disable him? Yes, if I please."

The men were placed. The pistols were discharged Both were remarkably well aimed, and each bullet came within a few inches of its mark. Colonel Benton instantly went forward, and offered to meditate between them. Mr. Clay waved his hand, as though putting away a trifle, and said:

"This is child's play. I demand another fire."

Mr. Randolph also demanded another exchange of shots. While the pistols were loading, Colonel Benton took Randolph aside, and implored him to consent to an accommodation, but he found him restive and irritable. He evidently regretted having aimed at his antagonist, and he now explained to Colonel Benton why he had done so. He declared that he had aimed below Mr. Clay's knee; "For," said he, "it is no mercy to shoot a man in the knee, and my only object was to disable him, and spoil his aim." He then added in his most impressive manner:

"I would not have seen him fall mortally, or even doubtfully wounded, for all the land watered by the King of Floods, and all his tributary streams."

The men were placed a second time, and the word was given to fire. Mr. Clay's bullet passed through Randolph's coat. Randolph raised his pistol, and discharged it in the air, and as he did so, said:

"I did not fire at you, Mr. Clay."

With these words he advanced, and offered his hand, which Mr. Clay took with the cordiality which became him.

"You owe me a coat, Mr. Clay," said Randolph, gaily.

"I am glad the debt is no greater," was Mr. Clay's happy reply.

The parties now all returned to the city with light hearts. On reaching his lodgings, the eccentric Randolph took the nine pieces of gold from his pocket, and said, to the three friends for whom he designed them:

"Gentlemen, Clay's bad shooting sha'n't rob you of your seals. I am going to London, and will have them made for you."

And so he did, taking great care, too, to get upon them the correct armoral bearings. On the Monday after the duel, the antagonists exchanged cards, and they remained on terms of civility during the rest of their lives. Seven years after, when Mr. Clay was in the Senate, and was expected to deliver an important speech, poor Randolph, who was near his end, went to the Senate Chamber to hear once more the voice of the great Kentuckian. As Mr. Clay rose to begin his speech, Randolph said:

"Help me up, help me up. I came here to hear that voice."

When the session was over, Mr. Clay offered his hand, and they had a brief but cordial interview.

DELICACY OF TASTE.—Nothing is so improving to the temper as the study of the beauties either of poetry, eloquence, music, or painting. They give a certain elegance of sentiment, to which the rest of mankind are strangers. The emotions which they excite are soft and tender. They draw off the mind from the hurry of business and interest; cherish reflections; dispose to tranquility; and produce an agreeable melancholy, which, of all dispositions of the mind, is the best suited to love and friendship. In the second place, a delicacy of taste is favorable to love, and friendship, by confining our choice to a few people, and making us indifferent to the company and conversation of the greater part of men. You will seldom find that mere men of the world, whatever strong sense they may be endowed with, are very nice in distinguished characters, or in making those insensible differences and gradation which make one man preferable to another. Any one that has competent sense, is sufficient for the entertainment; they talk to him of their pleasures and affairs with the same frankness that they would to another; and finding many who are fit to supply his place, they never feel any vacancy, or want in his absence.

But, to make use of the allusion of a celebrated French author, the judgment may be compared to a clock or a watch, where the most ordinary machine is sufficient to tell the hours, but the most elaborate alone can point at the minutes and seconds, and distinguish the smallest differences of time. One that has well digested his knowledge, both in books and men, has little enjoyment but in the company of a few select companions. He feels to sensibly how much all the rest of mankind fall short of the notions which he has entertained; and his affections being thus confined within a narrow circle, no wonder he carries them further than if they were more general and undistinguished. The gaiety and frolic of a bottle companion improve, with him, into a solid friendship; and the ardors of a youthful appetite become an elegant passion.—Hume.

COW MILKING MACHINE.—The Sun says the funniest picture we have seen for a long time, out of a professedly comic newspaper, is that in the last number of the Scientific American, representing the operation of a cow milking machine. The cows stand in a row; attached to each teat is a tube with a close fitting mouth, and all these tubes communicate with pumps, which are driven by steam or horse power. The cows being thus properly tapped, the pumps are set to work, and the milk drawn from their udders neatly, expeditiously, and with comfort to the animals. Indeed, the editor says, "the cows soon learn to come to the machine if fed or salted a few time while being milked." What next?

A NEW definition of constitutional laziness comes from Ohio. Standing on the steps of one of the single-team taverns of that State was an unwashed Buckeye, whose shabby exterior did not indicate an an industrious man. A gentleman on the street remarked to his companion:

"There is old Tom again; wonder how he got out this cold day! He is the laziest man in town by all odds."

"Lazy!" replied his friend; "he isn't lazy: he was born tired!"

THIS is the Fourth of July.

THE KU-KULX-KLAN.

I am at present en route, if you know where that is.

The fact is, I have begun a short journey through the South for the benefit of my health.

I havn't been well for some time. The doctor said that I had a complicated case of cataplasm of the epiglottis, caused by a suffusion of blood upon the anterior lobe of the cerbellum, or words to that effect. But I don't believe he knows.

I've taken a great many remedies. Every time I saw a certificate in the papers of a man who had been cured of a bad leg of eighteen years standing (awful long while for a leg to stand), or a fellow who was snatched from an untimely grave by some old pill or other, I went around and gorged myself with the stuff that helped him. I have tried all the patent medicine between here and Kansas, from pain killer to hair restorer, and here I am cantering around a mere wreck.

My wife says that it is the result of my reckless use of medicine; but I don't consider that she knows.

The way I happened to leave home was this. I saw the following paragraph in a paper, and I thought I'd try it on:

"Step out into the purest air you can find; stand perfectly erect, with the head up and the shoulders back, and then fixing the lips as tho' you were going to whistle, draw the air, not through the nostrils, but through the lips into the lungs. When the chest is about half full, gradually raise the arms keeping them extended with the palms of the hands down, as you suck in the air, so as to bring them over the head just as the lungs are quite full. Then drop the thumb inward, and after gently forcing the arms backward, and the chest open, reverse the process by which you draw your breath, till the lungs are empty. This process should be repeated three or four times immediately after bathing, and also several times through the day."

I went out into my back yard to practice, and and after following the instructions for a while, Mrs. Quill happened to come to the window and see me. She then observed:

"You, Quill, what in the name of common sense are you doing?"

"You'd better come in the house, and stop making such a fool of yourself."

"Go to, woman," said I "what do you know about science?"

"Science?" said she; "science? you old idiot, why you don't know any more about science than a teapot does abaut imortality. Come in here, or I'll go out and drag you in by what little fuzz you've got left on that block head!"

My wife possess a lively Christian character, but she always means what she says; so I gave up the experiment and went in, but not until the man next door threw a muzzle over the fence at me, to intimate that I was mad.

When I got in I found that a crowd of boys had been watching me through a crack in the fence, and one of them had fetched a policeman to take me to the insane assylum. I am a small man, and this made the scoundrel sc)valiant, that I was forced to fly through the alley gate to avoid him. I took the next train for the sunny South.

When I got to the hotel in Richmond, Virginia, I went to bed right o2; about midnight there was a knock at the door.

"Who's there?" said I.

"It is the K. V. Grand Inquisitor of the K. K. K."

"Well, what does the alphabetical cuss want, fussing around here at this time of night, say?"

"He desires to enter the portal."

"Well, he K. K. K. can't; so dry up will you," said I, for I was mad.

"Unbar the entrance, or we will break it down."

"Oh, I dare say. Hadn't you better go and get a howitzer? I guess you think you're cutting a swell, don't you? Well, you ain't."

In a half minute the door was kicked down, and in came a dozen men masked. They dragged me out of bed and sat me in a chair.

"We are the 12th verse of the 19th chapter of Ku-Klux Klan. We came to investigate you.—What's your name?"

"My name is Norval; on the Gramp—"

"None of that, now," said one fellow, drawing a revolver; no fooling; "tell us what your name is."

"Softly, thou rude disturber of my sweet repose, put up that pistol; many a fellow's been hurt by playing with those things."

"What's your name, I say?"

"Quil—John Quill; see the first book on botany—jonquil, a sweet scented flower which blows all the year round."

"We are sent here by the Grand Cyclops of the Ku-Klux Klan to murder you becase you are a traitor. What have you to say?"

"Gentlemen," said I, "what will you have? Let us fill the flowing bowl that it doth run over, while we drown our grief and sadness, and indulge in mirth and gladness."

"Sir-r-r-r! you trifle with us. Do you know what we, the Ku-Klux, are?"

"May I ask a single question? Tell me honestly, are you stomach bitters, or does Ku-Klux stand for patent tooth-wash?"

"Neither, ser-lave! We are a great and mighty league banded together to defended those imperiled liberties which a ruthless hand even now dashes to earth, Hark! the tocsin sounds! Dinna ye hear the slogan? The wild wind sweeping o'er the mountain summit calls to victory."

"Let her call. Hurrah for her, anyhow." I observed this because I didn't know what else to say, and the thing began to look serious.

"First," said the Head Centre, "what are your principles—are with us?"

"With you? Nothing but death shall part us, you can bet on that. I'm down on everything. The whisky tax, clean shirts, woman's rights, polygamy, New England, spiritualism, water cure, Horace Greely, and Ethiopian eccentricities. I am one of you. I am seven or eight or a dozen of you. As for me, give me Liberty or Death. Millions for defence, but not one cent for tribute, unless you can borrow it. There's my sentiments."

"You are one of us, then; we will give you the grip," said this fellow.

"Thank you but I've a sore finger just now; just leave it on the table, or send it up on the waiter when you go down. Most any time will do."

'Do you under stand the Kux Klux Klan?"

"Yes, you can carry on your warlike deeds in a Kuk Klux-Klandestine manner, don't you?"

"We do. We are come now from the Grand Cyclops with this message. I will read."

"The Grand Cyclops to the Death's Head V. V. X, I have S-l-t to the Manifest Destiny. The Gu-Gong has sounded, Look out! The L. B., calls for the pow-wows of the Propositus. He has bulbuled to the gangrene, and is on the beat. Dodo the palladium, and eminate though the illimitable outlines of infinity.

Grand Cyclops, X. XO. V.P.P.

"Did it hurt him?" I asked.

"What do you think of it?" says the man.

"He don't seem well. He needs fresh air and a stimulating diet."

"Will you consent to S-l-t to the Manifest Destiny, or will you close your ears to the Gu Gong!"

"Don't actually care a cent which. I never was fastidious about these things. I'm in for most any thing, from a suicide to a sleigh ride."

"You shall hear the Gu Gong. What will you be?"

"I'd be a butterfly," said I, "sporting 'mid flowers."

"Will make you the Grand Past Scalp Snatcher, or the Deputy Mindnight Goblin of the Right Wring." A voice calls from the depth of the grave, and asks how do you feel?"

"Now could I drink hot blood! but as I have none, let's make it tansy cold. Take a snifter out of my flask. I looks toward you."

Drunk standing in silence.

To morrow night you come around to the Cyclopean den, and we will initiate you into the mysteries of the Kuk Klux," said the man.

"Oh, I'll be on hand, of course; I should think so. I am in just that state of health when scaling the rugged pathway, or falling off a rocky precipice, or toasting on a warm gridiron would be joyous and exhilarating. I shan't be happy till the time comes."

"In the meantime I will give you the password, that the portal of the den will open to you. Listen; you must say Icthyosaurian Diabolo" and rap twice. The answer will be 'Blood!' You then say 'Yaghatan Coleoptere, and go in."

"That's what I say, is it?"

"Yes."

"H'm; well, just cut notchs in a stick so that I can remember it, will you?"

"If you give them wrong, your brains will instantly be blown out."

"You needn't tie a string on my finger to remind me of that. I shan't forget it."

"And now the brothers of the Kuk-Kluk will wing their way through the dark abyss of night to do deeds of terror. At the ninth watch tomorrow eve., the Grand Cyclops will wave the mystic wand, and perform the incantation of the wierd mystery of the skull. Till then adieu."

"I wouldn't miss it for anything. Take care of yourself and don't go to bed till you work off all the hard words you have on hand, or you'll have the nightmare."

They went out, and I instantly bolted the door, and stuffed my dry goods into a carpetbag slid down the waterspout, outside, and took the first train for Kentucky.

I expect to be murdered. I believe the whole Kuk-Klnx-Klan are tracking me, and, thirsting for my blood. But I don't care a cent, I am not agoing to join any society like that if I know myself. I send you this account to let you know what has become of me if I disappear. If I get back safely again, I'll never return to this sunny clime, never.

THE younger and most boisterous portion of a congregation, located in a quiet neighborhood, succeeded in procuring an organ for their church. The old pillars shook their head ominously, and dreadful calamities were prophesied. A CELEBRATED physician, who was given to innocent raillery, called to his deathbed a servant, who was sadly addicted to intemperance, and told him that he had left him something that would make him drink. ACCORDING to the most reliable enumeration, there are in the world three thousand and sixty-four different languages. This enumeration contains many provincial corruptions of the same general language.

SOME years ago a clergyman was preaching to a large audience in a wild part of Illinois, and announced for his text: "In my Father's house are many mansions." DUTCH FLAT ENQUIRER.

SATURDAY, JULY 4, 1868.

PUBLIC SPEAKING.—The Grant Club and a large body of our citizens were entertained at the theatre in this place on the evening of the 2d inst, by a speech from the Hon. C. A. Tuttle. The meeting was called to order by J. H. Redstone. C. J. Brown was elected Chairman, and J. F. Greeley, Secretary. The Chairman opened the meeting with a few brief and pointed remarks and closed by submitting the following resolutions:

Resolved, That as Union men we recognize in Gen. U. S. Grant, a sterling and unwavering patriot, worthy of the fullest and highest confidence of the American people, and by his bold declaration that under our Government the will of the people was the law of the land, he has proved himself a true and wise statesman.

Resolved, That in Schuyler Colfax we recognize a patriot and statesman in no respect second to any in the nation.

Resolved, That we will use all honorable means in our power to elect Grant and Colfax for our next President and vice President.

The resolutions were adopted with cheers. Mr. Tuttle of Auburn was then introduced, and spoke for an hour and a quarter, addressing himself exclusively to the reason of his audience, and presented an argument upon the relative positions of the two political parties that appeared to all clear-minded men unanswerable. There was a large crowd present and the speaker was vociferously cheered. The Union men of old Placer are waking up to the fight in earnest, determined to preserve the honor of the country.

STRATMAN has sent us this week the most acceptable bundle of reading miscellany received from him for some time; and on this occasion we intend to give him an extra vote of thanks. Stratman is one of the oldest, as well as one of the most liberal news dealers on this coast. He will furnish his subscribers with magazines and periodicals at Eastern publishers' rates, and he furnishes them with any back numbers, for the year, of the publications for which they may subscribe. He gives his patrons a New Years' present of an Album, Pictorial almanac or something of the kind, and he always guarantees satisfaction. Among the publications sent us this week we find Harper's Weekly, Harper's Bazar, New York Ledger, Atlantic Monthly, very acceptable, Godey's Lady Book, New York Weekly, Toledo Blade, New York Tribune, Last Sensation, and so many more that we have not the space to enumerate them.

"THE OVERLAND MONTHLY."—This is the title of a new monthly magazine, published by A. Roman & Co., of San Francisco, the initial number of which is before us. It is devoted to the development of the interests of the Pacific coast. The first number displays a great deal of care in the selection of the matter, and in the typographical execution of the work. "A Breeze from the Woods," the first piece is a very pretty piece of composition, as are also the poems "San Francisco," and "In the Sierras." Price $4 00 per year. The want of a magazine of this class on the Pacific coast has been severely felt, and we trust the people of the State will take hold and support this one as it deserves. We are pleased to place it on our exchange list.

ON last Sunday morning David Bumgardner of Lowell Hill, visited the claims of Messrs. Kinder and White, situated on Bear river, about two miles above that place, and while there went to assist the workmen in the mine, and took hold of the pipe for that purpose, the nozzle of which clogged up shortly after, and began to "buck," and threw him into the cut and broke his thigh, just below the joint, and bruised him otherwise. The fractured bone was set in a skillful manner by Dr. Nelson of this place, and at last accounts, the man was as comfortable as could be expected under the circumstances.

MESSRS. White and Kinder, whose claim is situated about two miles above Lowell Hill, cleaned up two of their boxes, after a run of six days, and realized $600. As the gold is of coarse quality, it is fair to suppose that the greater portion lodged in the ground sluices, before reaching the boxes.

GEO. C. Gorham has telegraphed to the chairman of the Union State Central committee, that both houses passed the Omnibus Reconstruction bill, over the President's veto, on the 25th ult. This bill admits North and South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Florida, and Louisiana. Adding to these Arkansas, admitted sometime since and we have a total of seven of the late rebellious States in the Union. The electoral vote of but three States will be missing at the Presidential election; and, indeed it is confidently expected that even the three missing States, Mississippi, Texas and Virginia, will be admitted during the summer; so it will be seen that we are in a fair way to have a full representation at the next session of the Electoral College, and this, too, in spite of the efforts of Andy Johnson and the Democratic party to the contrary.

OUR NATIONAL ANNIVERSARY.

Ninety-two years ago our revolutionary sires, imbued with the sentiment of human freedom and the principles of religious and civil liberty, convened at Philadelphia for for the purpose of formally announcing to mankind their determination of erecting a government, the corner stone of which should be the equality of ALL before the law, and of putting into practice the theory—which had theretofore been considered as chimerical and impracticable—that man was capable of self government. On the astounding news being wafted to the countries of the old world, all men of liberal ideas and just conceptions wheeled into line in favor of the infant nation this born, and predicted a happy and glorious future for the young giant that was destined in after years, to flaunt the emblem of right in the faces of the nations and empires that owed their existence to despotism, cruelty and abrogation of the equality of those who gave their governments the standing and respectability in the eyes of the world, while they were denied representation or voice in the affairs of political government. Great was the anxiety of the philosophic Christians for the result of the coming contest between the young David of Independence and the Goliah of oppresion and despotism. On the announcement of the eternal truth that our forefathers held, "that all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness," the dynasties of the old world shook from their cap to base and the despots then read the hand-writings upon the wall of the certain curtailment of the absoluteness of their power. From the moment of the enunciation of these truths it would seem that the government of the United States has been the especial object of Divine care; from that ever memmorable period, the anniversary of which all good, true liberty-loving patriots have ever observed, our nation has steadily progressed; from a small colony, with no commerce, raw recruits for an army, possessing no navy to contend with a nation whose boast was the ruling of the seas, but placing a devout and firm reliance in God and the justness of their cause went forth to do or die. The result is history. From every quarter of the habitable globe our country has received accessions to her greatness; the oppressed of all nations have been cordially invited to share with us the blessings secured by the perpetuation of institutions created under a government unseperable from the principles announced in the commencement of our existence as a nation; and now all who have or will avail themselves of the protecting influence of our flag can enjoy to the fullest extent all its benefits, the greatest of which is to "worship God according to the dictates of our own conscience."

The theory of self-government is no longer problematical; the affairs of government administered under the laws operating in "the greatest good to the greatest number," and the questions affecting our government being submitted for decision to those who bear the burdens is emphatically democratic and just, securing a confidence to the governed, entirely unknown elsewhere; the allegiance of the people being an abiding faith undelibly stamped upon their hearts there is no danger of a permanent disruption. How proud should we be of the great institutions under which we live! How great our nation! To-day our flag floats over every sea, and is hailed with feelings of delight by the liberty loving everywhere and commands respect from all nations. To-day the United States stands upon the highest roll of nations; possesses commerce superior to that of the most mighty empires, but lately disbanded the greatest army ever mustered in the field, which for bravery and endurance proved that it had wrung from the chieftains of the old world their unwilling award of invincibility. Our industrial persuits may be seen from North to South, from East to West, covering an area equal almost to the balance of the civilized world; our productions more than supply our wants, and from a population of four millions we now number forty and feed and clothe not only all who ask at home, but of our abundance gladden the hearts of the poor of other nations. God bless America! Bless the old flag!

"—The Star Spangled Banner!—O, long may it wave O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave!"

THE Democratic press have no longer an opportunity to howl in fear of the right of suffrage being exteded to the negroes of the South. The San Francisco Call, a Democratic organ says, in speaking of the passage of the Reconstruction bill: "The admission of these States allows their citizens to take part in the coming Presidential election, and makes negro sufferage an established fact, thus creating new political issues. We cannot hereafter deal with negro sufferage as a moot question, as a proposition; but we must deal with it as an existing reality. Six-eighths of the negroes of the South are admitted to the ballot-box, and will, with the white men of the North, cast their ballots for the next President. Henceforth, opposition to negro sufferage will mean nothing, unless it means that the ballot shall be taken away from the negro." So, henceforth, the battle-cry of the Democracy will be, in the North and West, "Take away the ballot from these miserable, ignorant creatures, who are led by the noses by the hirelings of the Republican party." In the South the song will be something after this style: "Ye sons of toil, we welcome you to a social and political equality with ourselves. The laws of Nature, notwithstanding the efforts of of the Republican party to the contrary, must be obeyed. You could no longer be kept by them, from enjoying those privileges which Heaven designed you should," and many other things equally nice. If the Union party win in the Presidential contest, by the Electoral vote of some one of the reconstructed States, or as the Democrats term it, "the negro vote of the South," they say that they will swear into office their candidate for President, whoever he may be, and appeal to the courts of justice to sustain them in their actions, and that if the courts do not uphold them they will seek relief by force of arms. They will not, however, utter one word against the negro vote if the Reconstructed States should happen to cast their votes favorable to them and a Democratic President be elected thereby, a contingency very remote. It would then be, "hail fellow, well met."

What they can possibly expect to gain by threatening to appeal again to the musket, the cannon, and the sabre, is more than we can imagine. Another internal war, and nothing short of extermination would satisfy either party, the feeling would be so bitter; the weaker party would of neccessity be destroyed. And in the event of another war, some one of the European nations might be tempted to pounce upon us, and establish a monarchial government. The leaders of the Democratic party are a set of corrupt politicians who would barter away the lives of their fellow-men to satisfy their wicked ambitions. Our nation has already had enough civil war. The masses are glad to get settled in peace again, and turn their muskets and sabres, into ploughshares and pruning-knives. This idle threat of the leaders to again plunge the land in civil war is nonsensical, and made only with a view to frighten the weakminded into voting the Democratic ticket in order to avoid such a threatened calamity; they are like a band of brass instruments, capable of making a big noise with a very little material. The people of the South cannot again be tempted from their pleasant firesides to engage in internecine strife at the beck of scheming political aspirants, and hot-headed maniacs. They were wrongly persuaded once by their leaders but did not discover their error until it was too late, and they will take good care not to be led into such a mass again by the idle cry of negro equality. They have sense enough to know that although the negro may have the right of franchise, he is not, nor never can become, intellectually, and socially their equal.

GRANT'S OXFORD ORDER.

We believe that men who are nominated by any party, for a public office should be like "Cæsar's wife, above suspicion."

When a man can be found, who is a candidate for office, that cannot be bribed or bought, or where tangible evidence is afforded that he is not, and cannot be made the tool of any party, clique or sect; one who is stern and unyielding in the discharge of his dictates of duty; he should be zealously supported by all true American citizens. The Union candidate for President stands forth as a man whom money cannot buy, nor wily politicans influence.

Much has been said about Grant's famous Oxford order, issued on the 17th of December, '62, by the Democratic press, but they uniformly say that that he expelled the Jews from his lines without giving any just cause for the act, read the order for yourselves and see if he does not give good and substantial reasons for issuing it:

HEADQUARTERS 13th ARMY CORPS,
DEP'T OF THE TENNESSEE, OXFORD,
MISS. December 17, 1862.

General Order, No. 11.

The Jews, as a class, violating every regulation of trade established by the Treasury Department, also department orders, are hereby expelled from the department within twenty-four hours from the receipt of this order by post commanders.

They will see that this class of people are furnished with passes and required to leave, and any one returning after such notification will be arrested and held in confinement until an opportunity occurs of sending them out as prisoners, unless furnished with permits from these headquarters.

No passes will be given this people to visit headquartes for the purpose of making personal application for trade permits.

By order of Major General GRANT,
JOHN A. RAWLING, A. A. G.

Official: J. LOVELL, Captain and A. A. G.

Grant says plainly "the Jews, as a class" are guilty of such and such crimes, and for those reasons he banished them from his lines.

Was it his duty to select from this large class those who were worthy of admittance within his lines? Plainly not. He, however, gives them the privilege, as the order clearly shows, of proving, through others, their reliability and honesty, for had he permitted them to apply personally for permits to trade in his department, he had as well not issued his order as it would have been detrimental to him; his quarters would have been constantly besieged by men of this class to obtain trade permits.

That there are many Jews who are honorable, clever gentlemen, is a question which does not admit of argument; in our community some of the best citizens are of this sect, and it was in order to do justice to those who were worthy that the order was worded as it is; but as a class he was right.

Experience has taught fire insurance companies the necessity of refusing this class of people the benefits to be derived from fire insurance.

They will barter anything for gold—a people without a country, they care not whether other nations are destroyed or not, so long as they can gain gold by it.

The great influence which was brought to bear openly against Grant, and the vast amount of money which must have been privately called to their aid, to influence him to revoke his order, and the fact that they did not succeed, is sufficient to establish the fact that he cannot be either bribed nor influenced.

We do not doubt that had he found it necessary to prevent any other class of traders entering his lines, orders equally as stringent would have been issued. We believe in supporting a man for his merits, and this much abused order, we consider one of the greatest, among the many meritorious acts of Grant's life; it shows conclusively that he will not be hoodwinked by the shylocks of our land, and for this, if for no other reason, we intend to support him, and if he will keep on performing such acts he can always have our support.

ASSININE FRIENDS.—It is one of the draw backs of celebrity that it attracts herds of admirers, who, not content to admire at a distance, covet a personal acquaintance with the celebrity of the hour. These parasitical beings consist for the most part, of persons incapable of judging for themselves as to what is really great in art or literature, or any other field of high endeavor. If they rush after the popular poet or novelist, it is not so much because they appreciate his works as because they are dazzled by his renown. The true parasite of this breed, after living ten years next door to Andy Johnson the tailor, without having ever honored him with a nod of recognition, would rush with eagerness to Washington to prostrate himself before Andrew Johnson the President. With this class notoriety is equivalent to fame. If Menken or Martin Farquhar Tupper were the idol of the hour, they would be as eager for an introduction and an autograph as though Ristori and Tennyson occupied the pedestals. During the last years of Starr King's life he was fearfully persecuted by dull and simpering admirers of this stamp; persons who did not understand the man, who had no appraciation of him no thought or taste or sentiment in common with him, and who would not have enjoyed his society, or sought it, had he not been a celebrity. These dull worshipers of greatness, haunted poor, King's house, unprofitably occupied his time, infringed upon his leisure, bored him with their unskillful flattery, and almost drove him frantic by their amiable persecutions. If Dickens had not been skillfully and faithfully guarded by devoted friends, and if he had not himself arrived at that stage of hardihood when a man is competent to reply a bore disguised as an admirer, he would probably have been overrun by the crowd of celebrity-worshippers. There is something very repulsive in this form of servility; but repulsive as it is we fear that it is more prevalent in the United States than anywhere else in Christendom. Toadyism and ruffhunting are eminently characteristic of English society and character; but in the way of mere idle, aimless running after celebrities, without the hope or expectatation of making anything out of them, the universal Yankee Nation can discount their English cousins.—Dramatic Chronicl.

THE Methodist General Conference, says the Oakland News, has made appropriations for missionary purposes as follows: Liberia, $48,855; India, $118,894; Bulgaria, $238,448; Mexico and Central America $10,000; foreign population in the United States, $220,525; Indian $18,000; American domestic missions, $1,182,200; other missions, including missions of the southern territory, $438,945; miscellaneous, $552,224. It is noticeable that so large a sum is devoted to American Missions. It is truth, though not as widely recognized as it ought to be, there is an ample field in our own country for the energies of moralists, missionaries and reformers, and that while foreign missions may be very well, it is not necessary to make our philanthropy of that telescopic kind which looks away to Boorioboola Gha and can see nothing worth doing at home. The Methodist Conference has done well.

TO-DAY the Democratic mountain labors, and a hybrid of some sort will be brought forth.—The Convention is composed of men who held high positions in the rebel army during the war, and men who held noble positions in the Union army. Citizens who gloated over the news of rebel victories, and men who, apparently, favored the National cause during the great struggle. The candidates for the Presidential nomination are numerous and represent every variety of opinion, and no matter who is nominated, a platform will have to be formed to conform with his individual views.

READING THEM OUT OF THE PARTY.—Some of the Eastern Democratic papers are reading the World out of the party for its advice to the National Convention to accept universal sufferage in the South. For instance, the National Intelligencer, popularly supposed to be the President's organ, says:

The World, like a free lancer, fights sometimes on one side and then on the other. No prudent General ever puts such a force down in his muster roll without making provision for possible desertions. Indeed, fairly considered, the World is not so much a Democratic journal as the New York Herald, which makes no pretense of that sort. If radical ideas, doctrines, and acts are to be carried out in the Government, then it is simply fair that the work should be committed to Republican hands. The position of the World is that the issue of negro sufferage in the South is to be determined, not by the Constitution or the wishes of the white population, but by the negroized governments themselves, controlled by negroes, and shackled by test oaths binding the voter to swear to accept negro sufferage. A recommendation for the adoption of impartial sufferage is another proposition of the World to the National Convention, which would come with excellen grace from Sumner or Thad. Stevens. There are many other Republicans who, like the World, have held to different sides of the question at different times.

The harmony of the Democracy is delightful to witness.

A WOMAN COMMITS SUICIDE.—The San Francisco Times relates the following circumstances in regard to an appalling tragedy that occured in that city on the 20th ult:

For two months past Mrs. Ellen C. Dix has resided at No. 509 Dupont street, occupying rooms in the upper portion of the house. She was living with a man to whom she was not married, and she had two children. For some days past it had been noticed that she was in low spirits, and during the last day or two she had drank a good deal apparently for the purpose of drowning thought. Yesterday afternoon about three o'clock, she went down stairs to procure clean bed linen and pillow-cases, and then asked the landlady to help her set her room in order. The mistress of the house replied that she herself had all the house to attend to while Mrs. Dix had only her own room to set straight. She told her, moreover, that she ought to exert herself, and that the work would do her good. Mrs. Dix then took the clean things with her, and went up stairs, after which the landlady saw no more of her. Presently she heard one of the children, who was in the balcony of Mrs. Dix's room, knocking at the window, and went up stairs, and entering the room, let the children in at the window, after doing which, she turned, and saw Mrs. Dix reclining on the sofa, apparently asleep. She went up to her and attempted to rouse her, but failing, looked more closely at her, and then saw that there was blood on her dress. A momentary examination revealed the frightful truth that she was dead, shot through the heart by a derringer, which had fallen from her lifeless hand, and lay upon the floor beneath her. She must have died instantly, for the position of the body was one of calm repose, and on the white and rigid features there was no sign of pain. The deceased was about thirty years of age, and very handsome. Even in death her beauty was remarkable, and it was difficult to realize that she had passed away with such awful suddenness. The weapon with which she killed herself was a derringer pistol, which had been left accidentally between the mattresses of her bed. It is supposed that she found it while making the bed, and it is probable that the temptation to destroy herself was suggested by its presence, and carried into effect immediately. The Coroner was summoned and the remains of the unfortunate woman were conveyed to the Dead House, to await an inquest.

SUMMARY MEASURES WITH THE CHINESE.—Our local authorities, acting upon the suggestion of the Chinese Companies, have arrested and imprisoned—with the intention of sending them out of the country—several Chinese females on the plea that their presence here is hurtful to the community. Now, as these individuals have violated no law—moral of status, tory—of this country; have only exercised their right of immigrating as other Chinese do, the action of the authorities give rise to certain questions: What right have Police to arrest and imprison people who have commited no crime? Is our Police force to be at the beck and nod of the Chinese Companies, to be used as agents in carrying out their designs? Is not the presence of hordes of Chinese men here as damaging to the community as is that of a few Chinese woman? If the Police has the right, and it is its duty, to arrest, imprison, and send out of the country Chinese woman, has it not also the right, and is it not its duty, to arrest, imprison, and send Chinese men out of the country? As the Police has assumed certain authority in this matter, we insist that it go further, and send the Chinese men out of the State. It must do more than it has done, or else do less.—S. F. Call.

The above coming from a first class Democratic (?) daily, is suggestive, to say the least. In accordance with its new fangled Democracy it not only poises its lance in favor of the Chinese brothels, but insists upon getting rid of the cheap labor of the country, Harrah! Domocracy forever!!!

TO CURE AN APPETITE FOR LIQUOR.—There are many who would like if possible to cure themselves of drunkenness, but are unable to break off the bad habit of drinking on account of the great mental and physical depression which follows every attempt. We find in an exchange a prescription to be taken in such cases, which is said to have cured thousands of persons in England who were slaves to strong drink. The recipe came into notoriety through the efforts of John Vine Hall, commander of the steamship Great Eastern. He had fallen into such habitual drunkenness that his most earnest efforts to reclaim himself proved unavailing. At length he sought medical advice of an eminent physician, who gave him a perscription which he followed faithfully for seven months, and at the end of that time he had lost all desire for liquor, although he had been for many years led captive by a most debasing appetite. The recipe, which he afterward published, and by which so many other drunkards have been assisted to reform, is as follows: Sulphate of iron, 20 grains; magnesia, 40 grains; peppermint water, 11 drachms; spirit of nutmeg, 4 drachms. Dose—one tablespoonful twice a day. This preparation acts as a tonic and stimulant, and so partially supplies the place of the accustomed liquor, and prevents that absolute physical and moral prostration that follows the sudden breaking off from the use of stimulating drinks.—Appeal.

THE New York Tribune says: "That was an admirable resolution adopted by the Chicago Convention, on motion of Carl Schurz, 'commending the magnanimity of the reconstructed Rebels who now support the Government, and favoring the removal of the restrictions and disabilities imposed upon them just as rapidly as their loyalty justifies it.' A speedy restoration of the Southern States to their old places in the Union, and a generous forgiveness of the conquered brethren who repent, are the chief features in the Republican policy, and but for the obstinacy of Andrew Johnson we should long ago have carried it into effect. But soon, with Grant and Colfax for our leaders, and the Administration united and loyal, we shall trample upon all obstructions and bring back our country to order and happiness."

THE miners of Bridgeport township, Nevada county, are talking of contesting the legality of taxing the mines. They held a meeting to consider the matter on the 20th ult.

THE San Francisco Dispatch says that there were nearly two hundred cases of small pox in that city last week.

NEARLY two hundred children are reported to be afflicted with the measles in the town of Santa Clara.

HOPE FOR THE AFFLICTED.—In another part of this paper will be found the advertisement of the celebrated Institute established by Dr. J. C. YOUNG, in 1850. In this age of deceit and charlatanism it is a boon to the suffering to point out to them where they are sure of obtaining the wished for relief and cure. Under the care of the skillful Doctor the sick and troubled can divest themselves of their burdens of pain; lay aside their cross, and secure health and happiness. If you are sick or in trouble, do not hesitate. Read the advertisement and follow the advice. Do not forget the number or the manner of directing your letters. Consultation Office, 540, Washington street, San Francisco.

MEDICAL ADVICE.—DR. WM. K. DOHERTY'S Medical and Surgical Institute is becoming a sine quo non to the welfare of our State and health of our citizens; and his rapidly spreading reputation, although it may excite surprise, is but the signal of skill, and follows as the natural result of such a cause. We are personally acquainted with gentlemen who had suffered for years under chronic disease, and who had taken advantage of every available means that promised relief, but without success, until they called upon Dr. Doherty, who, in an incredibly short space of time, has given them entire relief. It is gratifying to announce this fact, because the Dr. is a gentleman who seeks, not by defamation of others to establish his reputation or ruin of another's fame. The Doctor conducts his own Institute in such a manner must be gratifying to all his patients. He examines, advises, and recommends without charge, and the patient, after hearing his terms for treatment, can accept or reject at pleasure. In no case does the Doctor make a charge unless he effects a cure. This he is able to do, because he feels the confidence which long experience has given, and no doubt consolation which appertain to that confidence. Persons afflicted with either acute or chronic disease, would do well to consult the Doctor; at all events, it can do no harm, as for consultation he asks no fee; nor does he insist on obedience to his advice unless the patient places himself under his care. His offices are on Sacramento street, opposite the Pacific Mail Steamship office.—News

SARSAPARILLIAN!
(PREPARED FROM VACUO.)
The Curative Principle of Sarsaparilla enters largely into the composition of
R. R. R.
RESOLVENT.

One Bottle of Resolvent Better than Ten Large Bottles of Sarsaparilla.

One Bottle will Purify the Blood, and Expel Corruption from the Body!

So swift is this remedy in entering into the circulation, that it has been detected in the blood and urine in six minutes after it has been taken.

☞ 1 BETTER THAN 10 ☜

R. R. R. Resolvent cures with astonishing rapidity every form of Chronic, Scrofulous and Skin Diseases, and exterminates all corruption from the human system.

One bottle of Dr. Radway's Renovating Resolvent contains more of the active curative principles of the best Jamaica Sarsaparilla, (Sarsaparillian) than Ten of the largest size bottles of the mixture sold under the name of Sarsaparilla.

The process adopted by Dr. Radway in securing extracts (prepared in vacuo,) of Medicinal Roots, Plants, Herbs, and other vegetables possessing great curative properties over Scrofula, Chronic, Syphilic and skin diseases, that enters into the composition of the Renovating Resolvent, produces only ONE OUNCE of the pure extract out of 20 lbs of crude roots. The Inert matter that enters so generally in the large bottle mixtures and prepared under the official or pharmacopeia formula, is, by Dr. Radway's process, cast aside as rubbish.

One teaspoonful of the Resolvent is sufficient for a dose for all Skin, Salt Rheum, Pimples, Blotches, Sores and Eruptions of the Skin, Humors in the Blood, &c.

One teaspoonful, three times a day, will, in a few days, make the Blood pure, the Skin clear, the Eye bright, the Complexion smooth and transparent, the Hair strong, and remove all Sores, Pimples, Blotches, Pustules, Tetters, Cankers, &c., from the Head, Face, Neck, Mouth and Skin. It is pleasant to take, and the dose is small.

The first dose that is taken seizes on the disease and commences its work of resolving away all diseased deposits, Purifying the Blood, and driving corruption from the system.

The Renovating Resolvent, if used in any of the following named complaints, will positively cure the patient:

Skin Diseases, Caries of the Bones, Humors in the Blood, Constitutional, Chronic and Scrofulous Diseases, Scrofula, Syphilis, Fever, Ulcers, Sores, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Rickets, Scald Head, Cankers, Sore Legs, White Swellings, Glandular Swellings, Boils, Nodes, Sore Ears, Sore Eyes, Strumious Discharges from the Ear, Opthalmia, Itch, Constitutional Debility, Skin Eruptions, Wasting and Decay of the Body, Pimples and Blotches, Tumors, Cancerous Affections, Dyspepsia, Water Brash, Neuralgia, Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder, Urethra, Strictures, Difficulty of Passing Water, Calculous Deposits &c.

ALARMING INCREASE OF BLADDER, KIDNEY and CALCULOUS DISEASES.

The annual reports of the Health Commissioners of different cities, show a great increase of deaths from diseases of the Kidneys and Urinary Organs.—RADWAY'S RENOVATING RESOLVENT is the only remedy that has dissolved calculous concretion.

Its SOLVENT, diuretic, lithontriptic and tonic properties exceed that of any medicine in the world; it readily assimilates with the fluids, and promotes their exit through the Kidneys, Urethra and Bladder, removing calculous obstructions, and correcting all derangements of those organs.

So swift is this remedy in passing into the circulation, that it has been detected in the urine in six minutes after it has been taken; by adding to the liquid when cold a few pieces of starch, then a few drops of nitric acid, the liquid will change to a blue color. When brick dust, or a thick white deposit, like the white of an egg, (albumen,) is detected in the vessel, or bloody discharges from the urethra, or micturating in drops, accompanied by a burning or scalding pain—the RESOLVENT should be used and R. R. RELIEF rubbed on the spine, &c.

RADWAY'S PILLS being an aperient, soothing, and tonic laxative, are the only purgative medicine safe to administer in these difficulties; their mild soothing and healing properties produce evacuations without irritating the mucous membranes of the bowels, kidneys, ureter, bladder, &c., or causing straining when at stool.

Price of Resolvent, $1 per bottle, or 6 for $5. Pills 25 cts. R. R. Relief, 50 cts. per bottle. Principal Depot, 87 Maiden Lane, N. Y. Sold by all Druggists and Country Merchants.

We know that we have the best and most popular medicine in the world. We are not afraid to show what it is composed of.

PHYSICIANS ARE COMPELLED TO RECOMMEND IT

CALISAYA BARK has been celebrated for over two hundred years, and was sold during the reign of Louis XVI, King of France for the enormous price of its weight in silver. It is remarkable for Dyspepsia, Fevers, Weakness, Constipation, etc.

STORMS AND CALMS.

There are storms that burst in fury
Beyond the solid land,
And barges strew the ocean,
And costly wrecks the strand.

There are claims that follow brightly,
The wrecks are seen no more,
And stately ships go sailing
As proudly as before.

There are storms that fall as blackly
Over the human heart,
And barques that bore our ventures
In mournful fragments part.

There are calms that follow brightly,
And vessels leave the shore,
But there are barques that never
Will sail the ocean more.

"PA," asked a rogish girl of her father; "pa, can you tell me what the Arabs of the desert live on?"

"Fudge Nelly! that is an old conundrum. They live on the sand which is (sandwiches) there."

"Yes; but pa, how do they get them!"

"Well, really Nelly, you have me there. I give it up."

"Why, sa, you know that 'the sons of Ham are bred and mustered in the wilderness."

"Come, come, my daughter it's killing. Don't say another word."

"Oh, yes! do tell me what they eat on their sandwiches!"

"What they eat on them! Why, what do they eat on them?"

"Butter to be sure."

"Butter! Where, do they get their butter, pray?"

"Why, you know, pa, that, when Lot's wife was turned into a pillar of salt, all the family but her ran into the wilderness."

It is useless to say that the child is now passing away, and will soon be no more.

THE latest puzzle has relation to a very lamentable fact in regard to the present spring. It is;

THE SCIENCE OF HEALTH!

Every Man His Own Physician.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS,

AND

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT!

Disorders of the Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

The Stomach is the great centre which influences the health or disease of the system—Abused or debilitated by excess—indigestion, offensive breath and physical prostration are the natural consequences. Allied to the brain, it is the source of headaches, fflental depression, nervous complaints and unrefreshing sleep. The Liver becomes affected and generates bilious disorders, pains in the side, &c. The Bowels sympathize by Costiveness, Diarrhœa and Dysentery. The principal action of these Pills is on the stomach, and the liver, lungs, bowels and kidneys participate in their recuperative and regenerative operation.

Erysipelas and Salt Rheum,

Are two of the most common and virulent disorders prevalent on this continent, to these the Ointment is especially antagonistic, its "modus operandi" is first to eradicate the venom and then complete the cure.

Bad Legs, Old Sores, and Ulcers.

Cases of many years' standing, that have pertinaciously refused to yield to any other remedy or treatment, have invariably succumbed to a few applications of this powerful unguent.

Eruptions on the Skin,

Arising from a bad state of the blood of chronic diseases, are eradicated, and a clear and transparent surface regained by the restorative actton of this Ointment. It surpasses many of the cosmetics and other toilet appliances in its power to dispel rashes and other disfigurements of the face.

Female Complaints.

Whether in the young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the turn of life, these tonic medicines display so decided an influence that a marked improvement is soon perceptible in the health of the patient. Being a purely vegetable preparation, they are a safe and reliable remedy for all classes of Females in every condition of health and station of life.

Piles and Fistula.

Every form and feature of these prevalent and stubborn disorders is eradicated locally and entirely by the use of this emolient; warm fomentations should precede its application. Its healing qualities will be found to be thorough and invariable.

Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following cases:

Bunions,	Piles,	Sore Legs,
Burns,	Rheumatism,	Sore Breasts,
Chilblains,	Ringworm,	Sore Heads,
Fistula,	Salt Rheum,	Sore Throats,
Gout	Scalds,	Sprains,
Stiff Joints,	Tetter,	Ulcers.
Lumbago,	Skin Diseases	Venereal Sores,
Sores of all kinds,	Mercurial Eruptions,
Swelled Glands,	Wounds of all kinds.

CAUTION.—None are genuine unless the words "HOLLOWAY, NEW YORK AND LONDON," are discernible as a Water Mark in every leaf of the book of directions around each pot or box; the same may be plainly seen by holding the leaf to the light. A handsome reward will be given to any one rendering such information as may lead to the detection of any party or parties counterfeiting the medicines or vending the same, knowing them to be spurious.

Calls your attention to the fact of its being the largest and most popular Jewelry Association in United States. The business is and always has been conducted in the most candid and honorable manner. Our rapidly increasing trade is a sure guarantee of the appreciation of our patrons for this method of obtaining rich, elegant and costly goods. The sudden stagnation of trade in Europe, owing to the late German war, and recent disastrous financial crisis in Europe, has caused the failure of a large number of jewelry houses in London and Paris, obliging them to sell their goods at a great sacrafice, in some instances less than one third the cost of manufacturing. We have lately purchased very largely of these bankrupt goods, at such extremely low prices that we can afford to send away finer goods, and give better chances to draw the most valuable prizes than any other establishment doing a similar busindss. OUR AIM IS TO PLEASE, and we respectfully solicit your patronage, as we are confident of giving the utmost satisfaction. During the past year we have forwarded a number of the most valuable prizes to all parts of the country. Those who patronize us will receive the full value of their money, as no article on our list is worth less than one dollar, retail, and there are no blanks. I make no secret of ingredients. Helmbold's Extract of Buchu, is composed of Buchu, Cubebs, and Juniper Berries, selected with great care, prepared in vacuo and according to rules of Pharmacy and Chemistry.

These ingredients are known as the most valuable Diuretics afforded.

A DIURETIC

is that which acts upon the kidneys.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU

ACTS GENTLY

Is pleasant in taste and odor, free from all injurious properties, and immediate in its action.

FOR THE SATISFACTION OF ALL

See Medical Properties contained in the Dispensatory of the United States, of which the following is a correct copy:

"BUCHU. Its odor is strong, diffusive, and somewhat aromatic, its taste bitterish, and analogous to that of mint. It is given chiefly in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, morbid irritation of the Bladder and Urethr, diseases of the Prostrate, and Retention or the Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. It has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections, and Dropsy."

[DR. KEYSER is a physician of over thirty years' experience, and a graduate of the Jefferson Medical College and of the University of Medicine and Surgery of Philadelpia.]

MR. H. T. HELMBOLD:

DEAR SIR:—In regard to the question asked me as to my opinion about BUCHU, I would say that I have used and sold the article in various forms for the past thirty years. I do not think there is any form or preparation of it I have not used or known to be used, in the various diseases where such inedicate agent would be indicated.

You are aware, as well as myself, that it has been extensively employed in the various diseases of the bladder and kidneys, and the reputation it has acquired, in my judgement, is warranted by the facts.

I have seen and used, as stated before, every form of BUCHU—the powdered leaves the simple decoction, tincture, fluid extracts; and I am not cognizant of any preparation of that plant at all equal to yours. Eighteen years experience ought, I think, to give me the right to judge of its merits, and without prejudice or partiality, I give yours precedence over all others.

I value your Buchu for its effects on patients. I have cured with it, and seen cured with it, more diseases of the bladder and kidneys than I have ever seen cured with any other proprietary compound of whatever name, or any other Buchu.

Respectfully yours, &c.,

PRIVATE Medical INSTITUTE,

DR. J. C, YOUNG, IN 1850,
For the cure of all Private Diseases and
ALL FEMALE COMPLAINTS.

CONSULTING OFFICE,
536 WASHINGTON STREET,
SAN FRANCISCO,.....CALIFORNIA.
NO CURE, NO PAY.

THIS CELEBRATED INSTITUTE

has enjoyed on this coast an uninterrupted success of fourteen years, and has become one of the renowned Hospitals of the age. What the celebrated Lock Hospital is to London, and the no less renowned establishment of Ricord is to Paris, this Institute has become to the Pacific coast. The thousands annually received and cured place it in point of number of patients among the very first of the world, and the success of its treatment ranks it second to none.

PRIVATE DISEASES IN MALES and IRREGULARITIES IN FEMALES are the great destroyers of health. They insidiously attack the system and gradually undermine and destroy it; they drive the bloom from the cheek, the lustre from the eye, the strength from the frame; they give to the world puny and diseased offspring, and poison, through successive generations the race of man. The marks can be seen in Scrofula, Consumption, Cripples, the Idiotic, the Paralytic, the Insane, etc.

There is no more terrible scourge to the human race than those diseases arising from the contamination of Venerial Poison. The mildest forms, by retreating to the blood, hold over the afflicted one, the destruction that is liable at any moment to fall and blight—to utterly destroy—all earthly hopes.

MERCURY, recognized as the most fatal medical enemy to man, combining with the Venereal, doubles lis dangers. Those who have been treated with that pernicious mineral poison are not cured; the disease has only assumed a new form.

Do not be satisfied with partial cures that leave the poison to crawl through the system, eating its way into the tissues and organs beneath the apparently smooth surface, to burst out in the future with a virulence that will baffle the effects of medicine, WHEN PERFECT CURES can be obtained by consulting a physician whom long practice and thorough investigation into the causes of DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS enables to determine at once the nature of the disease.

In all cases entrusted to the Doctor's care, PERFECT, SPEEDY and PERMANENT Cures are Always Guaranteed.

In syphilis and its adjuncts; Gonnorrhœa and its accompanying diseases; and all diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, and prostate: Seminal Weakness; Diseases of the Heart and Lungs; Dyspepsia; Indigestion, Impotency; Incipient consumption, and all diseases of the urinary organs, in either sex, cure always warranted, or NO PAY REQUIRED, at the

Private Medical Institute,

Seminal Weakness or Spermatorrhœa.

The young man who experiences that growing weakness in his muscular and mental organization, should stop to consider whence it arises. He will find in the weakness of the back, trembling of the limbs, disordered digestion unaccountable failing of the powers of the mind, distaste for society, dread of impending trouble, forebodings of evil, sleeplessness, troubled and lascivious dreams, accompanied by growing deafness, loss of muscular power, and numerous other symptons of disorganization, the positive traces of that most terrible and destructive of all diseases Seminal Weakness—wasting away his powers, destroying his hope of life and manhood, and dragging him along the broken path of his existence towards a premature and loathsome grave. To him who finds his life dribbling out in the discharge of the vital principle of existence in nocturnal and diurnal emissions, the mere cessation of its appearance brings no assurance of relief.

Marriage, that holy office, the safeguard and hope of manhood, brings to such an one no hope of cure, but adds to his misery in the knowledge that the one who looks to him for so much of her happiness, is a victim to this evil, and an innocent companion of his punishment. He adds to his misery and disorder until hope leaves him. There is no rescue except in proper and skillful treatment. Consult then, at once, a physician whom long practice and careful research has made thoroughly conversant with every phase of the disease. Those who have become the victims of solitary vices, that dreadful, fascinating and destructive habit, which fills thousands of sick-rooms with paralytics and consumptives, and hundreds of untimely graves with its misguided victims, should consult, without a moment's delay, one who will sympathize with their sufferings. To such the Doctor would especially address himself, giving to each and all assurance of a PERFECT and PERMANENT CURE, without hindrance to business, change of diet, or fear of exposure.

Do not forget the address. See below.

Important to Females.

When a female is in trouble or afflicted with disease and requires medical or surgical assistance, the enquiry should be, Where is there a physician who is fully competent to administer relief, and whose respectable standing in society recommends him to the confidence of the community? The Doctor understanding how imperatively necessary these requirements are, feels called upon to interpose, and beg the attention of the afflicted to the fact that he has been a Professor of Obstetrics and Female Diseases for twenty years, and is fully qualified to administer in all cases, both medically and surgically, not in a superficial manner, but in as thorough a manner as years of study and practice—both in hospitals and private families—can make, to save them from the hands of the unqualified, unscrupulous and designing. Therefore families can rely upon him as upon a father. All in affliction can find in him one who will feel and sympathize with and befriend them in trouble—one in whose secrecy the utmost confidence can be placed. Consultation by letter or otherwise, FREE. See address below.

THE CELEBRATED FEMALE REMEDIES, compounded from the private prescription of Dr. Young, have now obtained a most extended popularity, and are correctly viewed to be the safest and surest remedies for the complaints for which they are applied. The constantly accruing testimonials of their efficacy declare them to be pre-eminently superior in their action. No lady should be without these Renovating Agents. None genuine unless procured at this office.

Rooms No. 9, 10, 11, first floor up stairs, entrance either Montgomery or Sacramen streets.

DR. PERRAULT'S studies have been almost exclusively devoted to the cure of the various forms of Nervous and Physical Debility, the results of injurious habits acquired in youth which usually terminate in impotence and sterility, and permanently induce all the concomitants of old age. Where a secret infirmity exists involving the happiness of a life and that of others, reason and morality dictate the necessity of its removal, for it is a fact that premature decline of the vigor of manhood, matrimonial unhappiness, compulsory single life, etc., have their sources in causes, the germ of which is planted in early life, and the bitter fruit tasted long after-ward; patients, laboring under this complaint, will complain of one or more of the following symptons: Nocturnal Emissions Pains in the Back and Head, Weakness of Memory and Sight, Discharge from the Uretha on going to stool or making water, the Intellectual Faculties are Weakened, Loss of Memory Confused Ideas are clouded and there is a disinclination to attend to business, or even to reading, writing or the society of friends, etc, The patient will probably complain of Dizziness, Vertigo and that Sight and Hearing are Weakened and sleep disturbed by dreams, melancholy, sighing, palpitations, faintings, coughs and slow fever; while some have external rheumatic pains, bness of the body. Some of the most common symptons are pimples in the face and aching in different parts of the body. Patients suffering from this disease, should apply immediately to Dr. PERRAULT, either in person or by letter as he will guarantee a cure of Seminal Emissions and Impotence in six to eight weeks.

Patients suffering from venereal diseases in any stage Gonorrhea, Gleet, Strictures, Bubo Ulcers, Cutaneous Eruptions, etc., will be treated successfully. All Syphilitic and Mercurial Taints entirely removed from the system.

DR. PERRAULT'S diplomas are in his office, where patients can see for themselves that they are under the care of a regularly educated practitioner. The best references given if required.

Patients suffering under chronic diseases, can call and examine for themselves. We invite investigation; claim not to know everything, nor to cure everybody, but we do claim that in all cases taken under treatment we fulfil our promises. We particularly request those who have tried this boasted doctor, and that advertised physician, till worn out and discouraged, to call upon us.

Low charges and quick cures. Ladies suffering from any complaint incidental to their sex, can consult the doctor, with the assurance of relief.
